CARLOID HYLTON

I am a father of 2 from Manchester of black Caribbean heritage. I struggled in primary school due to lack of concentration, behavioural difficulties and outdated educational biases.

During my later years in secondary school I benefited from peer mentor systems and community support programmes such as after school clubs and youth groups.

I believe this support allowed me and others to focus energy away from negative things that were normalised within our environment and later I graduated with a university degree. (BA honours in EDM production and DJ practices)

Funding cuts in the community have seen the closing of youth clubs and community groups like the ones I attended as an outlet for my passions and frustrations using music growing up.

I performed on radio stations, shows and events, with many considered the original pioneers of the Grime Music scene in Manchester and the UK.

I believe my lived experience of being a child who struggled to access the curriculum, along with my passion for music and positive experiences in youth clubs, have given me the insight and inspiration to develop this course. Collaborations with other organisations will allow CreActive to reach our target audience and personalise content, where possible to support gaps in learning for all.

Centres and organisations in the community I have already worked along side:

Power house, Zion Centre, Old moat primary school, Unity radio bus
Wythenshawe forum, Stockport health centre

CreActive programme content is adaptable for the following venues and audiences:

Youth club's, Schools, Care homes, Pupil referral units, Youth offenders
Children with Learning difficulties, Children with Behavioural problems
Adults with disabilities
